Why Bring Your Students (Talking Points)

1. They'll see it, not just hear about it. Students sit in real classes, meet current students, and talk with the people who will teach them.
2. It's built for students who feel called. Life Leadership College trains and prepares students for full-time ministry, with real ministry experience alongside the classroom.
3. There's a clear path into ministry. LLC students can pursue ministry credentialing while they study, so graduating means being ready to serve.
4. Parents get their questions answered. There's time set aside for parents to ask about cost, safety, outcomes, and what the college years look like.
5. It's low pressure. No commitment is required. It's a day to see, ask, and pray.

Announcement Script: 30 Seconds

> Hey everyone, I want to tell you about something coming up. On Wednesday, March 3rd, Life Leadership College is hosting its annual LLC Experience. It's a day where you can see what it looks like to train for ministry. You'll sit in on their practicums, meet current students, and hear from the leaders who teach there. If you've ever wondered whether God is calling you to ministry, or you just want to know what your options are after high school, this is for you. Bring your parents, too. See me after, or sign up at thellc.org/llcexperience

To a student:

> Hey [Name]! LLC Experience is Wednesday, March 3rd. You'd see what ministry training actually looks like, and I'd love for you to come with me!

To a parent:

> Hi [Name], we're taking students to LLC Experience at Life Leadership College on March 3rd. There's a session just for parents to ask questions about cost, outcomes, and what the college years look like. I'd love for your family to join us that day!

Parent FAQ (so you're ready for their questions)

What is Life Leadership College? A ministry leadership college that prepares students for full-time ministry through classroom training and hands-on experience.

How much does it cost? Just over $14,000/yr prior to any financial aid. Housing is an additional $4,000/yr

Is my student committing to anything by coming? No. LLC Experience is a visit, not an application or a commitment.

What does a student do after graduating? LLC prepares students for ministry roles and supports them through the ministry credentialing process.

Where do students live and who keeps them safe? The Rock Pointe Village Apartments, which are halfway between their Germantown and Brookfield Campuses.
